

After the Fire

The next morning after the fire how natural it is to hear the loser say, "And I had $500 in currency in the bureau drawer." And the insurance policy don't cover such a loss! You can hide your money where thieves may not find it—but how about fire? For this reason alone, overlooking the many other advantages, you should keep your money in the bank. We call your attention to our fire and burglar proof vault and invite you to leave your money with us for safe keeping.

Residential Sections.

When the owner of a tract of land conceives the idea of creating a residence park, the first advice sought is that of a real estate expert in this class of work, assisted by skilled landscape engineers. Such men know how to make the tract more beautiful. They know the value of curves; they understand how to obtain effects that are pleasing and restful. And so the streets are curved, the lots cut large and laid out to give the best exposure and views; all wires are laid in underground conduits, thus avoiding unsightly poles and overhead wires. The streets are parked and terraced and set to grass and suitable shrubs and flowers.

When all this is done, the land is offered for sale subject to building restrictions. These restrictions are a complete guarantee of security. They safeguard the entire investment. They reserve the entire residence park exclusively for homes.

Kind at 96 Years Old.

The following is a special from Henry:

"Uncle" Sam Grable, who is 96 years "young," and is able to get out over the town when the weather is good, contributes clothing to the flood sufferers. "Uncle Sam" is a very vigorous man at 96, and seems good for many years yet.

SOCIETY

Delta Theta Epsilon Club.

Enjoyable among the entertainments for the Delta Theta Epsilon Club and beautiful in arrangement was the "Angling Party," given by Miss Vivian Hawkins at her suburban home, Oak Lawn, on last Friday evening.

Receiving with the hostess was her mother, Mrs. Eugene Hawkins and Mrs. Claude Boone, of Bradford, served the guests upon arriving delicious punch. The house was decorated throughout with spring flowers and was bright with many burning tapers.

Little Misses Ruth and Vera Hawkins and Martha Boone passed the tiny reed baskets which served to hold small shells used as counters. The feature of the evening was a most interesting contest on "Fishes," at the conclusion, the two prizes, both handsome fans, were awarded Miss Virginia Lee and Miss Martha Bomar.

One progression was to the dining room, where a tempting two course menu was served. The table was unusually attractive, in the center was a miniature lake surrounded by moss.

Miss Hawkins was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Linnie Carter and her brothers.

Book Lovers Club.

Mrs. J. H. Bayer was hostess of a beautifully planned entertainment given to the Book Lovers Club and other guests, Thursday afternoon of last week. The hostess was assisted in receiving by her sisters, Miss Rebecca Bayer and Mrs. W. E. Haily. Miss Robbie Bayer served punch to the guests upon their arrival, and Misses Olive Wright and Elah Sanders furnished music.

The attractive reception rooms of the Bayer home were bright with gift bouquets. Suggestive of the contest on National Cemeteries. The dining table, from which a delicious two course menu was served, had for its centerpiece a pyramid of green potted plants over which hovered the dove of peace, and upon each corner of the table was a miniature cannon and two pyramids of cannon balls.

Handsome prizes were presented at the conclusion of the contest, Mrs. J. E. Garver receiving the club prize, an ivory handled fan, and Mrs. Bruce Cooper the visitors' prize, a hand painted sweet scented wood fan.

Miss Lancaster Entertains.
